

Marratech Pro

MEET INFORM INTERACT COLLABORATE

Marratech Pro is an exciting software program that provides a cost effective tool for collaborative meetings.

Without leaving your desk you can have audio and video meetings with your colleagues, clients and others at the click of a mouse on your PC.

The software is held on your network server. All your clients need to do is download a free "client" copy from your server in advance of the meeting.

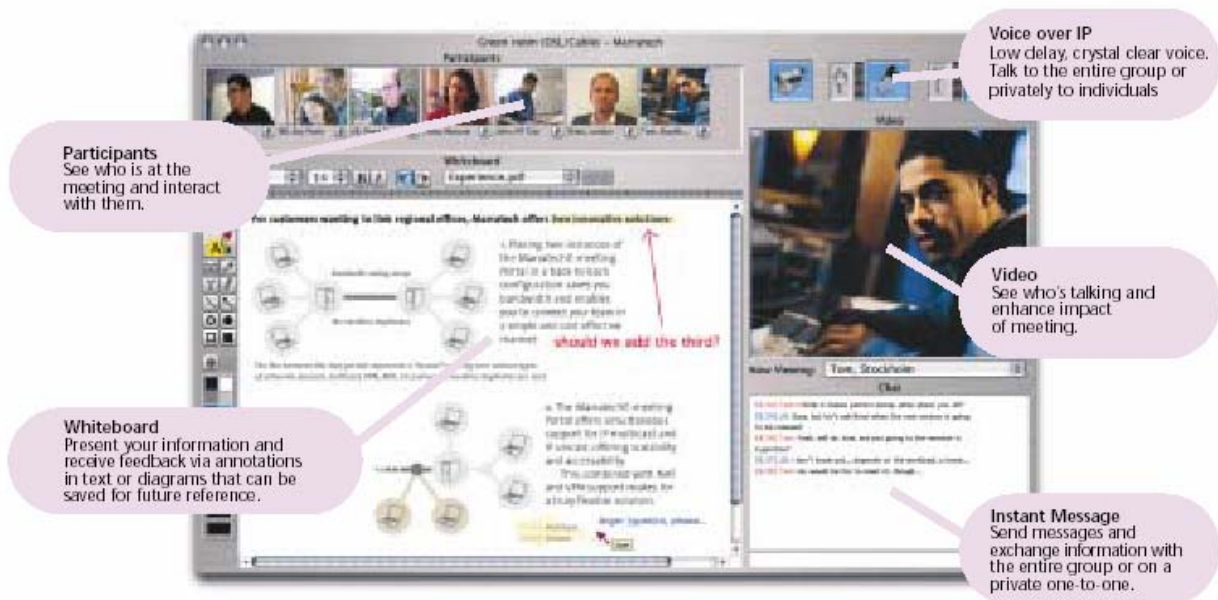

Participants require a PC with a webcam and headset, and access to the internet to make full use of Marratech Pro, but telephone and mobile telephone users can also participate in audio only mode.

It's about being there, wherever you are and whenever you want

Marratech enables people to meet, chat and collaborate wherever they are and from the comfort of their personal computer. The convergence of messaging, crystal clear voice over the internet, video and an Interactive white board into a single user interface, makes Marratech a powerful communication tool for any organisation.

Maximise your available resources to improve effectiveness

Increase your productivity by collaborating in real time with workgroups, customers and suppliers. Save time and money when it's not practical or appropriate to travel. Meet in an instant, gather feedback and increase the speed of decision making processes.

IT'S ABOUT BEING THERE

Marratech E-meeting Portal - E-meetings made easy

The Marratech E-meeting Portal hosts your meeting environment and provides users access to meeting rooms via a web page viewer. This portal can be installed on either a company network, demilitarised zone (DMZ) or a hosted internet server.

Portals are used to create and manage unlimited virtual meeting rooms with licensed concurrent seats for users. Installing is made simple with an installation wizard allowing administrators to create rooms and user accounts. Server software can be installed remotely and typically takes 60 minutes to implement. Upgrades and extra licenses are available instantly. You can also license just one room as an auditorium with unlimited seats for managing larger one-off meetings or presentations.

Multi-Platform support - Marratech supports Linux, Windows and Mac for client software plus Solaris for the server making it easy to deploy across workgroups and organisations.

Peace of mind - Secure end user authentication is achieved through SSL. Secure communication of all media is made available as default through the use of 128-bit Blowfish or DES encryption.

Return on Investment - Payback is quick with Marratech. With free client software and low system requirements (user and server) the cost to deploy in your organisation is low. Saving time, travel expenses and improving your productivity creates a compelling business case.

Awards - Marratech has won numerous awards including best in show at Apple Expo, Two Pulver Prizes for real world deployment and the prestigious IST (Euro-CASE) award.

Background - Marratech's Work Environment is the successful result of research that began in 1995 at CDT (Centre for Distance-Spanning Technology) Luleå University, Sweden, in conjunction with Ericsson and Telia.

Marratech has more than 170 customers across UK, Scandinavia and USA including the Royal Swedish Airforce and Police department, Apple, Deloitte and Touche, the Universities of Berkley & California and the top seven universities in Sweden.

North Lanarkshire Education Department is one of Marratech's users in Britain. The authority uses Marratech Pro for staff meetings and training across the internet. The improved communications that Marratech Pro offers makes it easier for specialists to attend meetings without disruption to normal classroom work
